In this seminar, we bring together speakers from a number of different local business sectors in the Limerick Region to present and discuss how they have responded to the challenges presented by Covid-19. The Seminar provides an exciting opportunity to hear experiences from diverse sectors and to explore the commonalities in learning for all.

Lessons that have been learned through COVID-19; and the presenters' thoughts for the future will be shared. Skills and talent development and empowering staff during the crisis and for the future will be explored.
